Attendance Matters....Strive For 95!

For the month of October, I missed _____ days! This means I have _____ % attendance.

I am committed to coming daily for the month of DECEMBER to attend a movie and popcorn!

Dear Parents and Guardians,
Greetings from Thomas K. Finletter!

Read a New Book Month

December is Read a New Book Month. This month is a gift-giver’s delight and looking at the long winter ahead there’s no better gift for everyone on your list than a book (or two or ...). With so many new books hitting bookstore shelves, there really is a perfect book to fit everyone’s taste. Young children, especially, benefit from reading a wide range of picture books from laugh-out-loud or touching stories to nonfiction that introduces them to influential people, science, history, and nature.

Homework

This is a reminder that all students should be assigned homework daily. It is the decision of the parent whether students complete the homework or not. Grades will not be negatively affected by failure to complete homework, however extra credit may be given for completed homework.

Inclement Weather Admissions

On inclement weather days, students will enter the building as follows:

- K-2 students will enter into the Little School House cafeteria
- 3-8 students will enter into the Main School House cafeteria for breakfast

Although students will be permitted to enter the building, please arrive as close to admissions as possible!

December's Attendance Incentive - All students coming to school every day on time and without early dismissals will be invited to watch a movie and enjoy a special snack! Please ensure that you are sending your student to school on time and prepared to do his/her best!
